My favourite food is chocolate!

Although I'm very happy to eat anything that somebody else has cooked!

I have been known to 'tread the (amateur) boards' appearing in pantomimes and musicals. I once appeared in the West End, a 5-minute appearance in 'The Complete Works of William Shakespeare (Abridged)'

I worked as a chemist in a sewage works analysing effluent in all its various states as it progressed through the works up to the point it was deemed clean enough to discharge into the river.

The job provided an interesting topic of conversation at dinner parties!

After having children, I retrained as an accountant with a particular interest in small businesses and charities.

I love to read anything with a good story, especially historical fiction.
